

DÖGURÐARNES

ICELAND

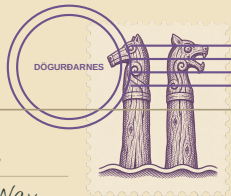

POST CARD

First of Aud's places for me. I saved Aud's country until after France – save the best for last, right?

Dögurðarnes means something like "meal headland" – her own people are said to have stopped here to eat on the way to Hvammur. I did the same, and thought the whole time about how far she still had to go.

Whatever pile the map marks for you, weigh it before anything else. Don't guess the number – read it.

With love,
Aunt Liv

FUN FACT

Dögurðarnes takes its name from dögurður, an Old Norse word for the day's main meal — a rest stop preserved in the map itself, long before it was a place anyone lived.
