

BAFFIN ISLAND

NUNAVUT

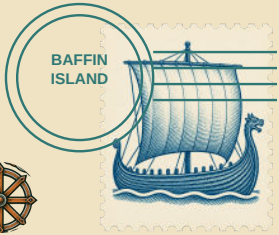

POST CARD

New stop: Helluland, "Flat Stone Land" to the sagas — and they weren't kidding about the stone either, not a tree in sight!

But last night the sky put on a show I'll never forget: green and purple curtains rippling right overhead. I stood out in the cold far too long just watching. Almost missed my supper!

Between this sky and Markland's, I think I've finally seen the whole thing.

Love,
Aunt Liv

FUN FACT

The saga says the stones here were so big that two men could lie on them heel-to-heel.
