

KYIV

UKRAINE

POST CARD

Kyiv, and it might be the most beautiful city on this whole trip – golden domes catching the light on every hill.

Stopped by St. Michael's this morning and lit a candle for you. Cheesy, I know. Here's a little riddle for you, the Kind we used to trade back and forth: I'm sweet, but no fruit tree grew me. I'm gold, but no smith ever cast me. Thousands of tiny workers made me and set six-sided walls to guard me.

Love,
Aunt Liv

FUN FACT

Oleg of Novgorod made Kyiv the Rus' capital and, per the Primary Chronicle, sailed on Constantinople in 907 — supposedly nailing his shield to the gates (a legend modern historians doubt). The real treaty that followed in 911 gave Rus' merchants tax-free trading rights there for up to six months.
