Travel highlights

By train

Staraya Ladoga – Kyiv. Two days on a train, most of it running alongside the rivers they would have rowed. Felt like cheating. Slept through the best of it, naturally.

Walcheren – Ghêlus. The long one. Three changes, one missed connection, and a man in the second carriage who shared his sandwiches after I gave up waiting for the buffet car.

From Rouen. Heading west, a short hop, for a museum I'd been looking forward to for months.

By sea

English Channel ferry. Landed in Winchester after a rocky night, but excited to finally see the battlefield itself, after all those hours in front of the tapestry.
