

BAYEUX

NORMANDY

POST CARD

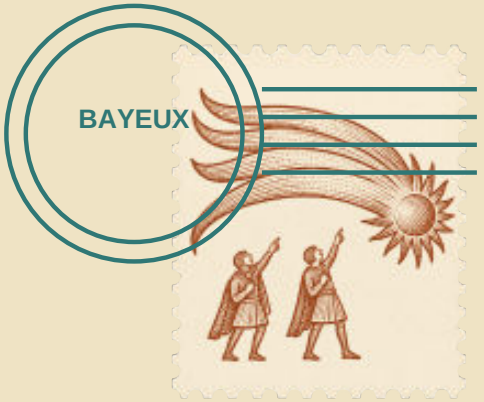

Today was Bayeux and its famous Norman tapestry. The tapestry was awesome! It tells the story of William the Conqueror (a direct descendant of Rollo!) taking England.

I'm obsessed with the style and you know how much I like to draw, can you find what it means?

Love,
Aunt Liv

FUN FACT

The Bayeux Tapestry shows Halley's Comet blazing over King Harold's court just before Hastings — the earliest known depiction of the comet, centuries before it got its name.

Image adaptation: Bayeux Tapestry Scene 57, photograph by Myrabella, CC0; underlying artwork public domain.