L'ANSE AUX MEADOWS

NEWFOUNDLAND AND LABRADOR

POST CARD

Hello, nephew!

As you know, I've spent the last two years travelling and exploring our family history. I've discovered so many fascinating things - and perhaps even a small treasure!

Along with this postcard, you should have received the travel bag I carried everywhere during my journey.

I know how much you love mysteries and puzzles, so I've prepared an adventure for you. There's a surprise locked inside the bag. To open it, you'll need to follow my travels and solve the puzzles I've left behind.

This postcard comes from the first stop on my journey: L'Anse aux Meadows. It should help you get started.

With love,
Aunt Liv

FUN FACT

L'Anse aux Meadows turned up butternuts and worked butternut wood, though the nearest wild butternut trees grow hundreds of kilometres south, near the St. Lawrence. Read as evidence its people ranged well beyond it, into the wider "Vinland" the sagas describe.
