Travel highlights

By train

Staraya Ladoga to Kyiv. My next postcard stop after Ladoga was Kyiv. Two days by the window, and I still slept through the best of it.

By train

Walcheren to Chalus. Chalus was my next postcard stop. Three changes and one missed connection, a stranger shared his sandwiches.

By train

Rouen to Bayeux. My next postcard stop after Rouen was Bayeux. I had been looking forward to that tapestry for months.

By sea and road

After Bayeux, I crossed the Channel and continued to Winchester. Battle and its battlefield were still ahead of me.

Turning south

I had already visited Kyiv when I reached Hedeby. Aci Castello and Patara were still ahead of me.
